WHO WE ARE

Basic job skills for heavy machine operators

The profile for basic job skills describes the link between basic skills and the employees actual work tasks. employers can get an over view of which skills need to be strengthened and employees can see what type of training they need in the area of reading, writing oral communication, numeracy and digital skills.

The profiles can be adapted to individual and local needs and will help training managers to design customized courses.

The profile can also be used in ordinary courses at upper secondary level and can be useful tools to help making common core subjects in vocational training more work-related.

We provide practical, quality training for earth moving machines, practical courses, health and safety courses and computers skills. Our earth moving machinery courses help our customers to become proficient on the following machines call + 27769563077 or 0137522465
